to order at 10:05 The roll of States was then called for names of members of the National Committee, and at its conclusion Chairman Mc

FORAKER, THE OHIO PLAG-DEFENDER Kinley presented the report of the Com mittee on Resolutions as follows:

THE PLATFORM.

A Noble, Masterly Declaration of Republican Principles. CHICAGO, June 21.—[By the Associated Presa.] Following is the full text of the can platform:

The Republicans of the United States assembled, by their delegates, in national convention, pause on the threshold of their proceedings to honor the memory of their irst great leader, the immortal champion of liberty and the rights of the people, Abraham Lincoln, and to cover also with wreaths of imperishable remembrance and gratitude the heroic names of our later leaders, who have been more recently called away from our councils—Grant, Garfield, Arthur, our councils-Grant, Garfield, Arthur, Logan and Conkling. May their memories be faithfully cherished! We also recall with our greetings, and with prayers for his recovery, the name of one of our living heroes, whose memory will be treasured in the history both of Republicans and of the Republic—the name of that noble soldier and favorite child of victory, Philip H.

In the spirit of the great leaders and of our own devotion to human liberty, and with that hostility to all forms of despotism and oppression which is the fundamental idea of the Republican party, we send fraternal congratulations to our fellow-Americans of Brazil upon their great act of the abolition of slavery throughout the two American continents.

HOME-RULE FOR IRELAND. We earnestly hope that we may soon con-gratulate our feilow-citizens of Irish birth upon the peaceful recovery of home-rule for Ireland.

THE UNION AND THE STATES. We reafirm our unswerving devotie the National Constitution and to the indis soluble union of the States, and to the au-tonomy reserved to the States under the Constitution; to the personal rights and liberties of citizens in all the States and Territories in the Union, and especially to the supreme and sovereign right of every lawful citizen, rich or poor, native or for

ONE FREE BALLOT in public elections, and to have that ballot duly counted. We hold the free and honest popular ballot, and the just and equal representation of all the people to be the foundation of republican government, and demand effective legislation to secure the integrity and purity of elections, which are the fountains of all. public authority. We charge that the present Administration and the Democratic majority in Congress owe their existence to the suppression of the ballot by a criminal nullification of the Constitution and the laws of the United States,

INGALLS, THE KANSAS CYCLONE.

American system of protection. We pro test against its destruction, proposed by the silver President and his party. They serve the interests of Europe; we will support the interests of America. We accept the issue, and confidently appeal to the people for their judgment. The protective system must be maintained; its abandonment has always been followed by general disaster to all interests, except those of the usurer and the Sheriff.

as destructive to the general business, the labor and the farming interests of the coun-try, and we heartily indorse the consistent and patriotic action of the Republican Rep-resentatives in Congress in opposing its passage.

THE REDUCTION OF THE REVENUE.

The Republican party would effect all needed reduction of the national revenue by repealing the taxes upon tobacco, which by repeafing the taxes upon tobacco, which are an annoyance and a burden to agriculture, and the tax upon spirits used in the arts and for mercantile purposes, and by such revision of the tariff laws as will tend to check imports of such articles as are produced by our people, the production of which gives employment to our labor, and release from import duties those articles of foreign production (except luxuries) the like of which cannot be produced at home.

THE SURPLUS. If there shall still rentain a larger revenue than is requisite for the wants of the Government, we favor the entire repeal of internal taxes, rather than the snrrender of any part of our protective system at the joint behiest of whisky trusts and the agents of foreign manufacturers.

CONTRACT AND CHINESE LABOR. CONTRACT AND CHINESE LABOR.
We declare our hostility to the introduction into this country of foreign contract labor and of Chinese labor, allen to our civilization and our Constitution, and we demand the rigid enforcement of the existing laws against it, and favor such immediate legislation as will exclude such labor from our shores.

COMBINATIONS OF CAPITAL - TRUSTS-

COMBINATIONS OF CAPITAL — TRUSTS—
TRANSPORTATION.

We declare our opposition to all combinations of cipital organized into trusts, or otherwise, to control arbitrarily the condition of trade among citizens, and we recommend to Congress and the State Legislatures in their respective jurisdictions, such legislation as will prevent the execution of all schemes to oppress the people by undue charges on their supplies, or by unjust rates for the transportation of their products to market. We approve the legislation by Congress to prevent alike unjust burdens and unfair discriminations between the States.

THE FUBLIC DOMAIN. THE PUBLIC DOMAIN.

We affirm the policy of appropriating the public lands of the United States to be homesteads for American citizens and set-tlers, not aliens, which the Republican party established in 1862, against the per-sistent opposition of Democrats in Con-gress, and which has brought our great western domain into such magnificent de-velopment. RAILROAD LAND GRANTS.

The restoration of unearned railroad land grants to the public domain for the use of actual settlers, which was begun under the actual settlers, which was begun under the administration of President Arthur, should be continued. We deny that the Democratic party has ever restored one acre to the people, but declare that by the joint action of Republicans and Democrats about 50,000,000 of acres of unearned lands, originally granted for the construction of railroads, nave been restored to the public domain in pursuance of the conditions inserted by the Republican party in the original grants. inal grants.

HOMESTEADS. We charge the Democratic Administra-tion with failure to execute the laws secur-ing to settlers their title to homesteads, and with using appropriations made for the purpose to harass innocent settlers wit sples and prosecutions, under the false pre tense of exposing frauds and vindicating the law.

THE TERRITORIES.

ritories is based apon necessity, only to the end that they may become States in the Union. Therefore, whenever the conditions of population, material resources, public intelligence and morality are such as to insure a stable local government therein, the people of such Territories should be permitted, as a right inherent in them, to form for themselves constitutions and State governments, and be admitted into the Union, pending the preparation for Statehood. All officers thereof should be selected from the bonafide residents and citizens of the Territory wherein they are to serve. South Dakota should of right be immediately admitted as a State in the Union, under the constitution framed and adopted by her people; and we heartily indorse the action of the Republican Senate in twice passing bills for her admission. The refusal of the Democratic House of Representatives, for partisan purposes, to consider these bills is a willfu violation of the sacred American principles of local self-governmant, and merits the condemnation of all just men. The pending bills in the Senate for acts to enable the people of Washington, North Dakota and Montana Territories to form constitutions and establish State governments should be passed without unnecessary delay. The Republican party pledges itself to do all in its power to facilitate the admission of the Territories of New Mexico, Wyoming, Idaho and Arizona to the enjoyment of self-government as States—such of them as are now qualified, as soon as possible, and the others as soon as they may become so. "BILLY" MCKINLEY, THE BUCKEYE BOY.

THE TWIN EVIL.

The political power of the Mormon Church in the Territories, as exercised in the past, is a menace to free institutions and dangerous to be long suffered. Therefore, we piedge the Republican party to appropriate legislation asserting the sovereignty of the Nation in all Territories where the same is questioned, and, in furtherance of that end, to place upon the statute books legislation stringent enough to divorce the political from the ecclesiastical power, and thus stamp out the attendant wickedness of polygamy.

In a Republic like ours, where the citizen is sovereign and the official is the servant; where no power is exercised except by the will of the people, it is important that the sovereign people should possess intelligence. The free school is the promoter of that intelligence which is to preserve us a free Nation. Therefore, the State or the Nation. Therefore, the state or the Nation or both combined, should support free institutions of learning sufficient to afford to every child growing up in the land the opportunity of a good common-school education.

We arraign the present Democratic Ad-We arraign the present Democrate Au-ministration for its weak and unpatriotic treatment of the fisheries question, and its pusillanimous surrender of the essential privileges to which our fishing vessels are privileges to which our fishing vessels are entitled in Canadian ports under the treaty of 1818, the reciprocal maritime legislation of 1830, and the comity of nations, and which Canadian fishing vessels receive in the ports of the United States. We condemn the policy of the present Administration and the Democratic majority in Congress toward our fisheries as unfriendly and conspicuously unpatriotic, and as tending to destroy a national industry and an indispensable resource of defense against a foreign enemy. McNEVIN'S PROPOSED TRIP TO SAN FRANCISCO.

The Gang Attempt to Do Him Up by Running Him Out of Town-One of the Men Commits Forgery and

The detectives have een watching McNevin ever since his last meen watching McNevin ever since his last complaint at the police station, and Wednesday evening learned that he was about to leave for San Francisco. This in itself looked suspicious, as McNevin has all along appeared to be determined to prosecute the swindlers who had robbed him, and the swindlers who had robbed him, and the swindlers McKenzie and Bowler at once which resulted in the capture of a man who is not said to be detective work, which resulted in the capture of a man who is not said to be detective work. about to leave for San Francisco. This in itself looked suspicious, as McNevin has all along appeared to be determined to prosecute the swindlers who had robbed him, and Detectives McKenzie and Bowler at once started out to look the young man up and find out what his sudden departure meant. The officers started on their hunt, and soon ran against McNevin in the vicinity of the Southern Pacific depot in company with a suspicious-looking man and took the pair in. McNevin, on being questioned, said that he had been employed by his companion, who said that his name was William Swayne, a son of a well-known baker of San Francisco, to go to that city and work in the bakery at a salary of $21 per week, and that young Swayne had advanced him a railroad ticket to San Francisco, and had promised to let him have $20 in money. All of which was to be deducted from his wages when he got to work. McNevin had his tickets and the checks for his baggage when he was met by the officers, and was waiting for the train when they came up with him. The story looked very fishy on the face of it, and the officers told McNevin hat he had better remain, and took him up to police headquarters. They also took the young man who had been personating Swayne into tow later on, and Detective Metzler was sent for to see if he could identify him. Metzler, who is well acquainted with Swayne, at once said that he was net the man he represented himself to be, and he was also taken to the police station. When questioned by Chief Cuddy as to what he knew about McNevin, he denied ever naving seen such a man or spoken to him, but when confronted with the latter he promptly identified him as the man who had introduced himself to him as Swayne and ever faving seen such a man or spoken to him, but when confronted with the latter he promptly identified him as the man who had introduced himself to him as faving the head engaged him to work. EMIL'S ANTICS.

A Bright New York Man Who Wanted a Cigar Stand. Several weeks ago a tall, handsome, well-dressed German, who introduced himself as nil Deitrich, and stated that he was a cor ent of the New York World, apred in this city. He was a smooth ter and soon succeeded in worming himelf into the good graces of a number of althy Germans. He seemed to have enty of money, and when out with his plenty of money, and when out with his newly-made friends he spent it like a prince. He was introduced into some of the best families, and his oily tongue soon made for him a great many friends who reacted him to the best in their houses, and were not backward about telling him that they would like nothing better than to have him give up his place on the World and settle in Los Angeles. He threw out several inits about an immense fortune which he had safely locked up in New York, but his bealth was so poor that he could not live in that country, and if he could only find some light business here he would be only too glad to make Los Angeles his home for the cest of his days. Someone suggested a saloon or clara stand, and he thought it would be a good idea. He started out the other rest of his days. Someone suggested a saloon or cigar stand, and he thought it would be a good idea. He started out the other day to find a proper location, and soon returned to his friends and informed them that he had just what he wanted. Hewever, he did not tell them where his grand elgar-stand was to be located, and no one thought to ask him, but all of them were pleased to learn that he had decided to settle in the City of the Angels. He then started out to stock his imaginary cigar-stand. Last Monday he called on Peter Bissen, the wholesale tobacco man, and told him that he wanted 4000 cigars. The order was promptly filled, and with a great flourish the bogus newspaper man gracefully pulled from his inside pocket a Los Angeles Bank book and wrote a check for $155, although he knew that his bill only amounted to $100. The book-keeper called his attention to the fact that he had drawn the check for $55 more than the bill called for. Emil seemed to be greatly surprised, but settled the matter by saying that the firm could pay him the $55, as he was a little short. The book-keeper thought it was all right and handed over the money. He did not learn his mistake until he went to the bank, when he found that Emil did not have a dollar in that institution. A complaint was at once sworn out, and the chances are that the New York man will have a hard time of it in explaining matters.

A SENSATIONAL BURGLARY.

The Scene of the Webb-Caines Robbery to the Front Again.

Lambourn & Turner's store, on Aliso street, near Alameda, was entered by burglars Wednesday night and the cash drawer tapped to the extent of $12 or $15. No attempt was made to break the safe. The thieves effected an entrance by boring through the wall until they struck the iron bars across the window, which they pulled out, and easily got through the window. This is the same place which Webb and Caines attempted to burglarize, which was foiled by Detective Marsh, and which has caused more comment than perhaps any similar job in the city. Marsh, it will be remembered, was suspicious of Caines and Webb, and with the knowledge and consent of the police authorities got into their confidence, and when they proposed to break into the place notified the Chief of Police and went with the burglars, who were captured in the act, Marsh, of course, being alinto the place notified the Chief of Police and went with the burglars, who were captured in the act, Marsh, of course, being allowed to escape. Caines and Webb were tried once for the crime, but the jury disagreed and the latter was released on bond, while the former, being unable to give ball, is still in jail awaiting his second trial. There is no clew to the perpetrators of this second attempt, but three suspicious characters were seen about the place that night, and it is supposed that they are the men.

once again to contain within its circle the one dearest to him upon earth, he left his place of busines, and, jumping into a buggy, drove to his lawyers, Messrs. Epler & Orfila, to inquire if the newspaper account was in reality true. It seemed to him too good to be true, but when his fears had been set at rest he ran excitedly out of the office, saying he did not intend to work any more that day, and again getting into his buggy drove at headlong speed to Mrs. Hunter's place, four miles from the city, in order to bring her back with him to relieve Sheriff Kays of his fair charge. Later in the day there was a pleasant little reunion, and now the "billing and cooing" will be resumed with the sanction of the court and free from the interruption of the unnatural papa, who is left out in the cold.

is very badly wanted on a charge of felony. On the 7th of June one C. F. Hastings got into trouble at Merced, and skipped out, coming to this city, where he registered under an assumed name at the United States Hotel. Shortly after his flight Sheriff under an assumed name at the United States Hotel. Shortly after his flight Sheriff Gibbons sent out telegrams asking officers to look out for Hastings, and giving a full description of the man. Botello at once dropped onto the fact that the man he had seen at the hotel was the man wanted by the authorities, and proceeded to look him up. He secured the services of Deputy Sheriff East, and the two soon located Hastings at the County Hospital, where he was engaged as a nurse, and on going to the place surprised him in bed and put him under arrest. Hastings at first denied all knowledge of Merced, saying that he had never been there in his life, but the officers soon convinced him that they knew enough to hold him, and he gave in. He was then taken to the County Jail and locked up, and Sheriff Gibbons notified that his man was here awaiting him. Mr. Gibbons at once replied that he would leave immediately for Los Angeles. He got here last night, and will take Hastings back today.

Telegram Debts. Louis Levy yesterday afternoon ran an attachment on Dr. C. Edgar Smith's ranch to secure the payment of a note of $395 and interest. Levy was formely one of the proprietors of the Evening Telegram, and sold out his interest to Dr. Smith and W. R. McIntosh, the two giving joint notes for the McIntosh, the two giving joint notes for the amount of the purchase money. Levy said that he had given 'hose gentlemen something over two months' time on the note, and that when they sold out the Telegram and said nothing to him about taking up the note, he had got out of patience and thought he would try the law and see if he could not collect his money. As soon as the attachment was served on Dr. Smith that gentleman at once proceeded to the Sheriff's office, where he deposited his check for $450 and the attachment was raised. Mr. McIntosh was not in the city yesterday and could not be seen.

Loud Talking.

The bulletin boards in front of the news paper offices and at other points throughout the city were crowded all day yesterday with people anxious to get the latest re-turns from the Chicago Convention. The turns from the Chicago Convention. The local politicians were the biggest men in the city, and most of the leaders spent the day posing on the corners, surrounded by their followers, while they gravely settled the nominations according to their personal preferences. Of course they knew no more about the matter than anyone else, but they talked loud, looked wise, and, for the time being, at least, were persons of great importance. They were too busy to think much of home affairs, and only one new name was mentioned, that of Fred Smth, who wants to succeed his Democratic brother as City Constable.

The Republican Stand.
The Republican County Central Committee has secured the vacant lot at the corner of Second and Fort streets for a meeting place for Republicans during the campaign including the ratification meeting tomorrow nichang the rathection meeting tomorrow night. TIE AND TRACK.

TWO DIFFERENT ROADS FROM SALT LAKE TO LOS ANGELES.

Alexander Badlam and His Line Which Has Not Been Given a Name-Freight Matters and Things -About the Southern Pacific Pas-senger Depot.

There are two different railroads projected from Salt Lake City to Los Angeles. One of them is to be built by Alexander Badlam and Isaac Trumbull of San Fran-cisco, or at least they are the chief movers in the enterprise, and the other by capital-ists of Los Angeles and New York. The newspapers have persistently tried to give the impression that the two are the same road, and that one only is to be built, and that by the Union Pacific, or under Union Pacific patronage, but the roads have nothing in common beyond the fact that both start at Salt Lake and come here.

The line projected by the Los Angeles The line projected by the Los Angeles men is known as the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Utan, the route of which has already been published. The Union Pacific people have circulated the story very extensively that they were to control this line. A reporter saw one of the Los Angeles men yesterday and asked him as to the truth of it. He made an emphatic denial: Said he: "The road is entirely independent from any other scheme, and will be built by Los Angeles and New York capital. The Union Pacific will have nothing whatever to do with it, and if they have ever made any propositions I have not been advised of them, and its very likely that I would.

THINGS ARE GOING VERY WELL

THINGS ARE GOING VERY WELL with us, though there are no new develop-ments. We are quietly securing a right of way, and when we have secured all that we way, and when we have secured an than we will go ahead with the work. The line is sure to be built, no matter if a dozen others touching the same points are projected. That doesn't scare us at all." So much for the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Utah.

WILL BE BUILT. Landlord and Lady Who Have Big hearts.

Mr. Alexander Badlam was interviewed a few days ago by a San Francisco reporter about his line, which has not yet been given

J. Doyle and Petra Doyle, his wife, have filed their complaint in a suit just commenced by them against Felipe Larate to recover balance of account due by him to them.

It appears that from the 1st of January, 1887, Larate boarded and lodged with Mr. and Mrs. Doyle, agreeing to pay for the accommodation $40 per month. His bill during the whole time was allowed to run, and not only so, but the Doyles advanced their lodger $305, making a total of $1505 up to the present year Larate paid back the sum that had been loaned him, viz, $305, thereby leaving a balance due his entertainers of $1200. For that sum he gave his written agreement to pay in installments, but an or fraction of it has been liquidated up to date, the present steps have been taken to recover.

ing to build a line to take business away from its own road, the Central Pacific. No, sir; our company is an independent concern and has nothing to do with any other railroad in the country."

So it would seem that Mr. Badlam has had some reason to fear the Union Pacific, and says they may begin to build if he does. That being the case, if the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Utah begin to build about the same time, the Union Pacific will feel called upon to go ahead with a line between the two, if they cannot get possession of either, and by that means bring still another line into Los Angeles.

A BOLD ROBBERY.

How the Supposed Thief Was Run How the Supposed Thief Was Kun Down.

Several days ago a young German named William G. Teichman called at the police station and said that he had been robbed by a companion named Joe Skrobinski of $40 and a watch. The case was given to the detectives, and they went to Skrobinski's house on Boyd street and instituted a vigorous search for the missing property, but found nothing except several boxes of cigars, which had evidently been stolen, cigars, which had evidently been stolen, but could not be identified. Skrobinski had in the meantime disappeared, but Teichman was told to keep his eyes open, and if he ran across him to report to some officer. Nothing was seen of Skrobinski until yesterday morning, when Teichman ran across him on the streets, and at once accused him of robbing him. Skrobinski denied this, and offered to accompany Teichman to the police station, to prove that he was not that sort of a man. On the way, however. Skrobinski changed his mind, and, in a burst of conidence, told Teichman that he had taken his watch, which he had left at a pawnshop, but denied stealing the money. Ou arriving at the station Skrobinski was sent out with an officer and located the watch when he was brought back and locked up, charged with robbery. Teichman was booked as a witness.

CHEAPEST HOUSE IN THE CITY.

The Situation Out There More Criti-Are Indignant-Prospects for an Outfall Sewer to the Sea.

Again the Vernon district people are up to arms on the sewerage and water questions. It will be remembered that last Monday in the City Council, Mr. Book Made a motion that the order of a previous neeting not to allow any water sold to the Vernon district from zanjas 3 and 4 be rescinded, and that they be given water at reasonable rates. The motion brought out a lot of discussion. Mr. Collins made a long speech on it, saying that the people ought not to have water who had lent a hand in shutting the sewerage off. The Chinese, he said, who had gardens in the vicinity of these places were suffering for water and wanted the sewerage, but couldn't get it on account of their white neighbors objecting. He was opposed to selling water to these people, but thought the poor Chinamen ought to have it. One of the Vernon men who was in the hall, got up and asked Mr. Collins if he considered a Chinaman better than a white man. That gentieman said he did not, but they had no hand in stopping the sewerage, and if they wanted zanja water he was in fayor of selling it to thera. The gentieman from Vernon said he would like to have water if they would give it to him, but Mr. Book's motion was VOTED DOWN. and the Vernon men left the hall indignant. They were rendered still more so to find They were rendered still more so to find out yesterday that since the adjournment of the Council, when water was positively denied them, for two days and a haif ranja water has been furnished to the "poor Chinamen," while the white people are suffering for it. When they found this to be a fact, they were indignant beyond bounds, and the remarks passed upon the Councilmen who voted against them were anything but complimentary. They say that they will not have the sewerage, no matter what efforts the Councilmen may make to coerce them into 4t, and they will have zanja water if they have to become a part of Los Argeles to do it.

Next Monday when the Council meets the South Side Irrigation Company will in all probability give up their contract to take care of the sewerage, and the city will find it on its hands, an unwelcome guest. The company are under bond to keep up the contract 20 years, five of which have expired; but since the courts have declared the sewerage a nuisance, the bonds are worthless, and the city will be compelled to take the sowerage, whether they desire it or not.

They will not be allowed to run the water

It or not.

They will not be allowed to run the water in open ditches, and their only resort now is to cover all the ditches with a plank covering, prepare some outlet the other side of the Vernon district, and get hard down to work on the outfall.

SEWER TO THE SEA. Then Vernon will come into the city in order to enjoy its water privileges, and everything will be lovely so far as the dis-everything will be lovely so far as the district is concerned.

Two weeks ago the ordinance declaring the necessity of the outfall sewer and $1,000,000 in bonds to build it with was passed. It has been published the required time, and next Monday when the Council meets it will have become a law. The next step to be taken will be for the Council to call a special election to vote on the issuance of the bonds, and then something tangible will be done. Whether those bonds will find a ready sale, or will meet the fate of the school bonds, will decide the fate of the outfall sewer for the present, at least.

fate of the outfall sewer for the present, at least.

The sewer, as proposed in the Eaton system which the city adopted, commences at a point on the beach, near the salt works, and runs in practically a direct northeast course to the intersection of the east boundary of the Agricultural Park property and the south charter boundary of the city, thence following the south boundary to a point where Grand avenue would intersect the same. It was to be egg-shaped rather than circular, 4x5 feet 6 inches in size and about 11.5 mi.es in length. It would carry the sewerage for a city of 200,000 people. Its estimated cost was $466,154.

length. It would carry the sewerage for a city of 200,000 people. Its estimated cost was $466,154.

This route is hardly obtainable now, as since the survey was made

has been established right on the line. The people there would never allow the sowerage to come by the town unless iron pipe was put down, and that would involve an enormous expenditure. Both the Street Superintendent and the City Surveyor have been over the ground recently looking for the best course for the sewer, but they have kept very quiet if they have determined upon anything, because they say if the people along the line find out that the city wants the right-of-way through their land they will want fabulous prices for the right. Propositions have been made to the city to give the right to run the sewerage into Ballona Harbor, and the Clenega Company have given them nave been made to the city to give the right to run the seweraze into Ballona Harbor, and the Clenega Company have given them the right to come through their lands provided they are given sewerage for an 80-acre tract in the Vernon district. The Sewer Committee consider these propositions very favorable, and do not anticipate trouble in getting the right of way if they can only get the money to build the sewer. The matter will be fully discussed in the committee meeting tomorrow, and will occupy some time in the Council Monday, when the call for a special election will be issued. Thus far the chances for the sewer are good.

The following tribute to the memory of Mr. Fred W. Frelds, who died in this city some time ago, and whose death caused deep regret among his numerous young friends, was offered by Post Col. Louis de P. Callehan, at the second annual en-campment of the California Division of the Sons of Veterans, held at San José last eampment of the California Division of the Sons of Veterans, held at San José last week.

Brothers: I respectfully ask your attention while I offer an humble but sincere tribute to the memory of a brother member of this division, who has gone from amongst us forever. I refer to Capt. F. W. Field, Post Division Quartermaster and Adjutant, who died at Los Angeles last December. Brother Field was a charter member of Lyon Camp No. I, and being my Division Quartermaster, it was my good fortune to be almost daily associated with him. This intimacy resulted in a close bond of friendship between us, which will not be surprising to those who knew his many noble qualities of heart and brain. High-spirited, sensitive and honorable, he was generally beloved. As is often the case when intelligence and spirituality presominate, he was physically delicate, and his young life closed just as the bright rays of dawning manhood seemed to illuminate his path, with every promise of an honorable and useful future. Brother Field's courageous spirit did not faiter when confronted by the Angel of Death, his Christian life and training enabling him to camly await the last call, while he expressed a desire to have the Sons of Veterans accompany his remains to the tomb. Our organization being composed of young men, most of us brothers, are prone to connect death with the distant future, and we keenly feel our loss as we mourn the death and cherish the memory of our beloved friend and brother, Fred W. Field.

THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

The platform adopted by the Repub ican Convention is undoubtedly one of the most pregnant, comprehensive and admirable political documents ever offered for indorsement to an assemblage is nowhere in it any attempt at evasion or "straddling." The great issues of the day are handled in a plain, significant and straightforward manner, so that he who runs may read.

After paying a graceful tribute to great Republican leaders who have of Massachusetts, Patrick Egan of gone to swell the majority-Lincoln, Grant, Garfield, Arthur, Logan and Eggers of Arizona. Depew was nom-Conkling-and greeting the sick hero, inated by Hiscock of New York and Sheridan, Brazil is congratulated on its abolition of slavery, and good Hastings of Pensylvania then nom-wishes are extended to those who are inated John Sherman, who was secbattling for home rule in Ireland. ended, in an eloquent speech, by Gov. The platform not only declares for a Foraker. Charles E. Smith of Pennfree ballot, but emphasizes the declaration by the assertion that the Democratic majority in Congress exists by virtue of the suppression of that free ballot. The issue of protection as against free trade is accepted with confidence, and the Mills Bill deconfidence, and the Mills Bill de-nounced. The platform does not, however, stop with a merely negative statement on this most important issue. The course is plainly indicated which interest and dignity of the entire the Republicans would pursue to country. reduce the surplus and at the same time lighten the burden of taxation upon the people, without destroying our manufacturing industries. This robs the Democrats of their favorite cry that the Republicans are merely obstructionists on the tariff question. The answer of the defendant-the defender of American indus-vocates will make of it. There are two questions which come very close home to us dwellers on the Pacific Coast-Chinese immigration and silver. Much interest has been felt here upon the manner in which the Republican Convention would handle these questions in its platform. There is no wavering on either of these points. The exclusion of Chinese labor is demanded, and a resolution fa-Democratic Administration being con-THE TIME 3' Hoe Presto perfecting demned for its effort to demonetize silcoast. Not only Chinese immigration,

> On the subject of public lands, the unfounded claim made by the Democrats to the honor of restoring unearned railroad land grants is shewn, and the manner in which innocent settlers have been harassed by the Democratic Administration is exposed. One of the strongest paragraphs of the platform is that relating to the administration-or rather maladministration of the Territories. The right of the Territories to have their officers seected from residents is ably shown. While the Territories will not be able to evince their appreciation by voting for the Republican nominee, the fair position taken on this question by the Republicans will meet with hearty approval from lovers of liberty and justice throughout the Union. The rebuilding of our navy and the construction of coast fortifications is demanded as a policy which will not only increase the security of our country, but employ labor. The inefficient and cowardly conduct of foreign affairs by the present Administration comes in for well-earned rebuke, and the un-But, whether the outcome be Blaine, Sherman, Allison, Alger er Foraker, what a pitifu shibit the best of them will prove against the peerless Democratic President!

Reduction of letter postage to 1 cent, Reduction of letter postage to 1 cent, Proventies of the free school. In the language of the Herald's able and the extension of the free-school system, are demanded.

Upon the question of civil service reform, the platform is outspoken and dignified. It is shown that those who in 1884 left the party to wander after THE excellent rule established that false gods, deserted the only party of no change can be made after the vote true reform. Let the Mugwumps make the most of it! The tenets of the Republican doctrine of reform in the civil lation is handled in a manner that is at once simple, manly and devoid of claptrap. Congress should see that "no man who honorably wore the Federal ences will be subordinated to the good uniform shall become the inmate of an almshouse, or depend upon private charity, in the presence of an overflowing treasury. It would be a public scandal to do less for those whose valorous service preserved the Government."

Let any candid man, of unbiased judgment, be he Republican or Democrat, compare this grand and spirited platform, this masterly statement of Republican principles, with the shuffling straddle perpetrated at St. Louis, and say upon which he, as a free citizen of the United States, would rather stand! With such a supplement to the ing slow on loans, and says there Constitution of the United States pinned on the Stars and Stripes, the defenders of American industry and American manhood will this year bury the bandana and the fossil interests which it represents under an avalanche

Blaine, who by his own choice and declaration is not a candidate, may be considered practically out of the field as a factor in the balloting, except in the improbable event of a protracted deadlock.

Sherman's friends at Chicago are said to show a confidence of success that is manifested by the friends of no other candidate there. The vote in the convention on Wednesday evening on the Virginia contest is considered to be a test vote on Sherman's strength. The vote of Ohio was evenly divided for a purpose, but counting the Ohio vote entire, the aggregate for Sherman would be 269 votes. This, however, is at least 30 votes below the number which the Ohio Senator will undoubtedly poll on the opening ballot.

Harrison's strength has been growing remarkably. His friends say that they will be absolutely sure of 150 votes. The Harrison men committed a blunder, however, in seeking to force the Indiana delegation to promise a solid vote for Harrison. This disclosed the fact that several members of the Indiana delegation favor Gresham and will vote for him.

Gresham's boom, which went up like a rocket, appears to be now coming down like a stick. To such an extent is this the case, that he is said to be no longer regarded as a serious factor in the situation. It is, however, too early in the race to predict what contingencies may arise, and those who figure on the result without taking Gresham into consideration are liable to get left. Depew's is a very diminutive boom just now. New York is said to regret having wasted its strength upon the railroad lawyer, whose nomination at the head of the ticket is now generally conceded to be not only almost impossible but also undesirable, from the point of view of availability. It is not likely that New York will give Depew more than two or three bailots. After that, the big delegation will probably divide about equally between Sherman and Harrique divided the strength of the streng and would have been appreciated here where the Michigan man has done not a little business. The way in which the General circumvented a "smooth citizen" who had a cold-blooded game set up to swindle Alger and his asso ciates out of a large sum of money, affords a very striking example indeed of the business acumen of "the Badger-State boy." Why did not the Trombone quote that example? Did the General's alertness and nerve make anybody about the Trombone establishment "unhappy."

THE cry for protection from the man ufactures of European pauper labor is it will avail little if the pauper laborer is allowed to come in ad libitum. It will not, for instance, avail much to remind the day laborer on a railroad or building lot that the manufacturers of the coat he wears and the pick he uses are protected, as long as he has to contend against Hungarians and Italians, imported to labor at 75 or 50 cents a day. The Republican platform should speak with no uncertain sound on this sub-

Danger always lurks in the "harmonious" stagnation of a filthy pool, while a rushing stream purifies itself by its own motion, as it chafes against and overleaps intervening obstacles.

An anthropologist at a recent New York convention said that there is hardly a substance in Nature that has not been introduced into the stomach as a medicine. Nearly all have been lauded, doubted, dropped, restored and appreciated or forgotten. This goes to show that a benign Providence originally furnished man with a constitution as strong as that of the United States or the human race would long ere this have gone to join the dodo, the mastodon and other extinct species.

THE Florida Times says: "The Republicans are at sea in a storm of Democratic enthusiasm." Well, then, wait till the storm is over, and then behold the Democratic wreck.

AMUSEMENTS.

TURNVEREIN HALL - The farewell TURNVEREIN HALL.—The fareweil benefit tendered to Mrs. Norma Stuhr was well attended last evening, and the programme was varied enough to satisfy every one. A farce, acted in German, and called one. A farce, acted in German, and called The Sword of Damocles, opened the entertainment and was applauded by those who understood the mysteries of Teutonic gutturals, and also by those who did not. A vocal solo by Mr. H. Y. Harding, "I Fear No Foe," was capitally rendered. Prof. Aravelo's guitar performance was, as usual, redemanded; and the little daughter of the beneficiary played some piano solos very sweetly for one so young. The farce, in one act, My Neighbor's Wife, concluded the evening, and was rendered by Messrs. H. B. Sullivan, Thomas Barnes and Costello and Mrs. Stuhr, Mrs. Kranse and Miss Laura Sleardi, The farce is full of ludicreus situations, and like other pieces of the kind requires to be acted with a certain amount of vim, in which the actors last night were deficient, from lack of study apparently, as the prompter's voice was painfully audible throughout the piece. The costumes of the ladies were elegant and the affair was no doubt a financial success.

In connection with the dramatic story of modern Italy, Mr. Armstrong will give in swift and vivid outline the life and career of Italy's "sublime peasant"—the great-hearted Garibaidi, so well known and beloved by Americans. This lecture is expected to be the very best, as it is the last of the "Star" course, and the lecturer's last appearance in Los Angeles.

Insidious Operations of a Narrow-gauge Local "Politition." The Times gives place to the following vigorous protest:

THE TIMES gives place to the following vigorous protest:

Los ANGELES, June 21—FTo the Editor of the THE TIMES.] I come to you for assistance in exposing a certain intermedding Republican ward politician and would be "leader" (God save the mark) whose fingers are constantly itching to get a chance to "manage" everything in sight. He needs a warning, and we, who dispute his methods, and have a contempt for his person, look to THE TIMES to give that warning.

This worthy, who has more than once been distinctly repudiated by the party, is again trying to foist hinself upon the local clubs and committees, upon the militia and upon the Fourth of July celebration, which is in danger of being turned into a partisan affair, to be run on the "piece club" plan. Lastly, he is seeking to take charge of the coming Republican ratification meeting, to be held, I understand, on Saturday evening next (provided the convention at Chicago shail have finished its work previous to that time).

This fellow, pretending hypocritically to be fierce for "harmony," is in reality apperennial disturber, constantly aiming to equally between Sherman and Harrison, with some scattering.

The Alger men have been among the most active of workers and are very hopeful. They count upon a first ballot of 126 votes sure, without figuring at all on a number of States. Allison has held his own without making any great progress. It is now generally agreed that the contest has narrowed down to four men—Sherman, Alger, Harrison and Allison. One of these will probably be the nominee, and that one will most likely be the statesman from Ohio.

The Trombone, going out of its way to do a thing which those "on the inside" here in Los Angeles known to be brazenly hypocritical on the part of the "smooth citizen" who moves the editorial puppets in the office of that Uriah Help among journals, indulges in an encomium on the business achievements and abilities of Gen. Alger. It forgot, however, to give one practical illustration which was right at hand, and would have been appreciated here,

SADDLE COLORED.

A Negro Who Has His Own Par-ticular Style.

William Ben, a saddle-colored darky, was examined before Justice Austin yesterday afternoon on a charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses. On the morning of the 14th Ben went to Mrs. Williams' millinery store, on North Main street, and got three ostrich plumes, saying that Cora Phillips had sent him for them, and that if they were what she wanted she would send the money, and if not would return the plumes. The goods were handed over to the negro and he left the place. After waiting a reasonable length of time the officers were given the case, and on finding that the Phillips woman had not ordered the plumes, they at once spotted Ben as the man, he having got some shoes before at the Star shoe house on the same racket, for which offense he was in jail. The lady who waited on Ben was taken to the jail and at once identified him as the man who had come into the store and got the feathers, although he denied ever having seen her before. GRESHAM NAMED.

Hon. Leonard Swett Nominates the Soldier-Jurist.
CHICAGO, June 21.—[By the Associated Press.] The next State to respond, as the roll-call proceeded, was Illinois, Hon. Leonard Swett nominating Walter Q. Grasham. Mr. Swett's speech was as follows:

"Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Convention: This presence recalls a scene enacted in this city 28 years ago. That was enacted in this city 25 years ago. Inst was the second National Republican Convention, and the first nomination of Abraham Lincoln. At his inauguration the Republican party first assumed the reins of governmental control.

With unimportant interruptions, the Democratic party had controlled our national cratic party had controlled our national policy for thirty-two years. The country in 1861 stood upon the verge of political ruin, and the sharpest and most deadly conflict of arms ever known succeeded. We have had of Republican rule since then four years of war and twenty years of peace. The four years of war produced peace. The lour years of war produced heroes, sacrifices, and suffering without parallel. In the reunited country twenty years of peace increased the population, the internal improvements, manufactures, useful inventions, comfort in homes, and general development of all classes with a rankidity meconaled in the history of the rapidity unequaled in 'the history rapidity unequaled in 'the history of the world. In the language of Daniel Webster, we may say of this Republican rule, of the suffering and fruits of the war, and of the unparalleled prosperity of this peace, 'The past is at least secure.'

"We have assembled again to select a President for 60,000,000 of free people. Who most in character is the very essence of these people? Who of all names suggested will draw support most largely from all classes? Who can best bring together and unite the broken fragments of our own party? Who, by personal courage and sub-lime confidence in nia own convictions, is an ideal leader of the American people? Who most strikingly stands for the cosmo-one moment in furnishing her quota of men. After performing this service of great value to his State, he selected 1009 young neighbors and friends, and marched at their men. After performing this service of great value to his State, he selected 1000 young neighbors and friends, and marched at their head into Kentucky with Sherman at the very beginning of the war. There the forces aided the loyal element, holding true to the Union the northern part of that State, while the southern part broke off and went with the rebellion. But for the presence of these troops, the Ohio river would have probably been the dividing line, and Southern Ohio, Indiana and Illinois would have been the first battleground. He served with Grant at Shilloh and Vicksburg, and was a distinguished figure with Sherman in his march to Atlanta in 1864.

COX GOES UP.

He Gets Two Years for Being Playful.

Charles Cox, who was convicted in Department No. 1 of the Superior Court last Wednesday of an assault upon J. Ralph at Norwalk, some little time ago, appeared before Judge Gardiner yesterday for sentence. After listening for some time to the plea of the defendant for a light sentence, based on certain mitigating circumstances, the Court gave him the full penalty allowed by lawfully and the same car with him. That is the dead body of your commander, Gen. Thus the commander of the army and division BEN BUTTERWORTH. THE CINCINNATIAN tion to the solders who followed him. But it is not in his military career, dashing and brilliant as it was, that we find the crowning reasens for his nomination. For him 'peace hath her victories, no less renowned than war.' After his relations, with the army were voluntarily severed, he was called by President Arthur into his Cabinet to the office of Postmaster-General. Here he greatly promoted the rapid expedition of the mails, shortening materially the time of their transit across the continent. He also aided in reducing letter, newspaper and paccel postage, thereby saving millions to the public, and encouraging the dissemination of literature and intelligence. He was also first to vigorously enforce the United States statutes against the abuse of the mails by lottery and other swindling schemes, by which the credulous and weak-minded were imposed upon and their confidence betrayed.

"It is, however, in the discharge of his illine confidence in all own convictions, is in the all leader of the American people? Who most strikingly stands for the common with the common strikingly stands for the common with the common strikingly stands for the common stands for the common stands in the stands of the common sta

"We should not forget, also, that this Nation has arrived at that stage of civilization and development that it has a right to demand common honesty in politics. If a young man happens to acquire the prefix of 'Hon,' to his name, he has a right to demand that that shall not be a reason for explanation and anology ever afterward. The people have a right to demand a higher standard of integrity than that its President shall in his letter of acceptance piedge himself to one term, and then by every official act work for a second nomination and appeal again for a recliection. They have a right to demand that he shall not promise a civil service reform with his lips, and break every yield promise in practice. The strength of Judge Gresham's candidacy lies in the public belief that he will, if elected, manage public affairs with the same common honesty with which he has heretofore managed public affairs. Therefore, under the circumstances and necessities of our party, and, without disparaging in the slightest degree the merits of other candidates, I offer to this convention the rarest of opportunities. But nominate Gresham, and the people will bear him on their shoulders to the White House, and to the official seat of Washington, Lincoln, Garfield and Grant. The reigns of government under the inspiration of his leadership will be taken from those who imperilled its existence and placed in the hauds of those who saved it in its hour of weakness and danger, In behalf of the laboring man, whose struggles he is the living embodiment of; in behalf of particitism and loyalty, of which he is a shining representative and example, and, for the State of Lincoln, Grant and Logan, I nominate as a candidate for President of the United States the son of Illinois by adoption. Walter Q Gresham's nomination, said:

"We bring no favorite son here to this convention. Our cholee brings forth from

of Illinois by adoption. Walter Q. Gresham."

Mr. Davis, in seconding Gresham's nomination, said:

"We bring no favorite son here to this convention. Our choice brings forth from the voice of the Nation the preference of the old and the new which are gathered within the walls of this convention. The old were new when they gave Lincoln to the world." Mr. Davis became dramatic at this point in his action, and with consider able effect upon the feelings of his audience, he pointed to a picture of Lincoln upon the ceiling, and said: "I direct your attention to that sacred face upon the wall. We who clasp hands today are clasping hands with the memory of Lincoln, and pray that in this hour of crisis we may be given such another captain." [Cheers.] Davis went on in the same strain, and alladed to the greatness of the services of Gresham to his county, both in the field and in council. "The worth of these services," he cried, "was no greater in the flash of his sword and shield, far beyond the foremost line of battle, than in the judicial sanctuary, rebuicing the proudest autocrat of the land and protecting as well as elevating labor's dignity. [Cheers.] If called upon to present the picture of an ideal candidate, f would spread a man's face upon the canvas and call him Gresham. [Great cheering.] Gresham, is sound upon the tarift," said the speaker, and again the audience cheered. "He is sound financially, sound for the freedom of speech, a free hallot, numan liberty and honest toil. Sound upon every principle of honor, courage, integrity. Do not disappoint an expectant Nation," concluded Mr. Davis, "by giving them any other champion." [Cheers.]

No one ever heard him make reference to the names of his ancestors south of the line. He mounted to the saddle of prosperity, without the aid of a stirrup. The hospitality of his ancestors had given their property to those whom they had served. On his arrival in the State he immediately entered upon the practice of law, and at once achieved success. Ilis aptitude of preparation, large views of questious, the widest knowled of his profession that could be acquired in such a time, distinguished him. He rose rapidly in his profession. He leaned upon no man's arm for support. Modest and self-confident, he seemed to say, 'I am an honest tub that stands on its own bottom.' [Cries of 'That's good.'] Everybody perceived that in web and woof he was of heroic stuff. While practicing his profession, the great rebel-lion raised its hand to strike down the Union. Relinquishing his profession, he took the sword, went into the army, and received his commission from Oliver P. Morton as colonel of a regiment. |Cheers and applause.| He marched with Sherman to

It seems to me, fellow-Republicans, the hand of destiny has pointed him out as the man to lead us on to victory."

Mr., Gallinger of New Hampshire also seconfied Harrison's nomination. Mr. Gallinger said that after the eloquent words of the distinguished ex-Governor of Indiana and others nominating Senator Harrison, he had but little to say. He spoke of the many great men who came from New Hampshire, and said his State was content to let her past speak for itself. Concluding, he said: "If we are true to the spirit that animated the Republican party when it nominated Lincoln, we cannot fail to achieve a magnificent leaders; look at the men who have carried it to victory, in past days—the party of Fremont, of Lincoln, ef Grant, of Sherman, of Sheridan: the party of Sumner, of Phillips, of Garfield and of Blaine."

At the cuention of the name of Blaine a great yell went up from the mass of the delegates, and principally from Rhode Island, Kentucky, Minnesota, Indiana and the Territories. Men mounted their chairs, and with hats and fan

GOV. ALGER.

The Michigan Favorite's Name Before the Convention.

CHICAGO, June 21.—[By the Associated Press.] When Michigan was reached, R. E. Frazer of Detroit made a speech nominating Gov. R. A. Alger. In presenting Gov. Alger's name Mr. Frazer said:

"Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Convention: Michigan comes into a Republican convention for the first time in its history to ask of that convention a favor. [Loud cheers.] Michigan has always proved true to the Republican party, and always intends to prove true to that organization in any political battle which may be fought. [Cheers.] We find the Republican party today out of powerfor the first time in its history. Heretofore, during all the battles you have been engaged in, Michigan has been modest in her demands of the Republican party; but when we find the Democratic party controlling this Nation, we do not stop to argue by what means or methods that party got there, but come here to provide for you ways and means of turning that party out of power. [Cheers.] As long as everything was going along smoothly with the Republican party, Michigan had nothing to ask, but now when you need her, we come here and offer you a man to lead you to victory in this coming campaign, and I propose to tell you the reason why. In the first place, gentlemen of the convention, it becomes necessary that you should select from the large number of candidates named here the most available man to fight this campaign with. — must be strong in all States alike; he arm — strong alike with soldier and civilian; with the rich and poor man, with the black man and with the white man. [Applause.] I propose to offer you, in behalf of Michigan, for your careful and candid consideration and a gentleman. As man. [Applause.] I propose to offer you, in behalf of Michigan, for your careful and man. [Applause.] I propose to offer you, in behalf of Michigan, for your careful and candid consideration, such a gentleman. As to those gentlemen who have been named, we have nothing to say against them, and believe what has been said about them is true, but the availability of the man that you should place in nomination here is a serious question for you to consider, and right here at the outset I say to you be will supply to you strength from all the quarters I have named. If you think he is not a friend of the poor, come with me to the city of Detroit where he lives, enter with me into the poor man's home, the abode of misery, and there mention the name of our candidate and you will find that next to their God, among the poor people of Michigan, the name of Gen. Russell Alger is in their hearts."

At the mention of Gen. Alger's name there was great enthusiasm, and an enthusiastic Algerite in the main gallery howled out three cheers for Gen. Alger, and they were given with a wilt by portions of the audience. The only delegates that in the of Michigan and some from

The uproar breaks out again, and Eggers, taking it very coolly, faced the convention without a tremor. When, finally, things were in shape for him to go forward. Eggers resumed: "If you will but for a moment listen to the great West, I will endeavor to indicate te you why we have a choice. It is absolutely necessary that this convention make no mistake in the selection of the man who is to head the ticket of the Republican party. Gentiemen of the convention, this is the second time in my career that I have occupied a seat in the Republican Convention of this Nation. [Cheers.] It is not the first time my voice has been heard upon the rostrum throughout the country [cheers] for that great and gallant party. [App plause.] I hope it will not be the last one." [Laughter and many shouts of "Time, time."]

A great deal of merriment was caused by Mr. Eggers's efforts to be heard, and, finally, through the efforts of the chairman and others, quiet was secured, and the gentleman continued: "It has been said that the Republican party is dead. I say today that if it is, it is the most lively corpse I ever saw. [Laughter.] I desire to say, gentlemen, that in this election, and in casting my vote for the nominee, I have endeavored to look among the favorite sons of the States. I came here with no choice, but in looking the ground over and seeing men, reading their past careers, looking at the different records that we will be required to meet in the coming campaign, you will be required to select a man who will be a favorite with the soldier and poor laboring man. Both will be required to be combined. [Cheers.] In doing that I say Gen. Russell Alger stands second to none. "Ohio is sometimes like New York; she occasionally comes to the National Conven-tion divided as to her choice for President, and sometimes comes united. She has so come on this occasion. Her 46 delegates are here to speak as one man, and it is at their bidding, in their behalf, and in their name that I take this platform to second the nomination that has just been made; not so, however, because John Sherman is a citizen of our State. Knowing him as we do, we should support him here with the same determination and integrity of purpose, no matter from what section he might be; for we know and pledge for him that for which you, gentlemen of New York and gentlemen of all other States, must recognize and concede that he is not so much a citizen of any one State as a citizen in the highest sense of the word of all the States in this Union. high position was probably one-third of the convention. The noise was indescribable. Umbrellas unadorned and umbrellas with flags and with mags and with handkerchiers attached waved to and fro, and the thumping of thousands of feet upon the floor of the hall and galleries was like the tramp of a great army. In the midst of the uproar several horns were tooted. With the exception of horns were tooted. With the exception of one or two Sherman men in the outskirts of the New York delegation, the entire State was an oasis of sitting delegation with disgusted faces. Fourteen and a half minutes were devoted to elamor. Several times within this time the chairman pounded fariously with his gavel, and he apparently at last came to the conclusion that the best way to deal with the demonstration was to let it die of "its own accord. During the demonstration several delegates from Missouri started "Marching through Georgia," and the great war ode was taken up by the standing delegates and audience. On the expiration of 14½ minutes, the chairman made a final effort with the gavel, and finally order was restored.

Hon. John W. Lancsden of Virginla and Mr. Anson of North Carolina also seconded the nomination of Sherman in elequent and able speeches, during which much enthusiasm was provoked.

HERMAN AND BLAINE.

RE FIGHT NARROWED TO THE TWO LEADERS.

All Other Candidates Dwarfed by the Pending Struggle-Depew Disgusted and Out of the Race-Some

CHICAGO, June 21 .- (By the Associated Press.] As has been previously estimated in these dispatches, the two positive forces in this convention are Blaine and Snerman. That was never more apparent than in towas shown openly and to good advantage. Many of the spectators said a ballot immediately following the great demonstration at the close of Gov. Foraker's speech would have resulted in Sherman's nomination, but those who were looking beneath the surface discovered signs of unusual activity among the Blaine men. Steve Elkins was as out the convention hall as four years His lieutenants were also in motion The Blaine influence was particularly ong about the platform of the chairman onstration of Sherman's strength on the roll-call vesterday evening, when his friends rallied 250 votes for Mahone, with a certainty of nearly 50 more, which they refused to cover, has stirred up the friends of Blaine and tempted them to abandon their programme of nominating Blaine only after prolonged efforts to select another candidate. It is now tolerably clear that the Blaine men do not intend to permit the nomination of Sherman if they can help it. These two strong lines of action within the an party are again to meet face to Republican party are again to meet face to face. The programme is to prevent a nomination tomorrow, and have a conference of the friends of the candidates tomorrow night; but it necessary, it is understood that Bialne will be sprung upon the convention at any moment. The difficulty his friends have to fear is how to get the nomination for him in such a manner that he can accept it without riding over the rights or chances of the other candidates. The Biaine men have had much difficulty in restraining the inpetuous Californians, who threatened to bring matters to an issue at once. This was done, however, and in the morning it is understood nat California will yout for Blaine without moing his name in nomination. Deper ever, and in the morning it is understood nat Califernia will vote for Blaine without using his name in nomination. Depew as today appealed to by some of the dialone managers to hold his New York strength till they give the word and then lead the Blaine stanpede. It was their theory that if New York, the decisive State, should thus demand Blaine, the remainder of the country, including the friends of the other candidates, must submit with good grace, but Depew declined to enter into any such scheme. He said he bad once denied any intention to oose as a stalking-horse for Blaine, and he alterated that decistration. Depew is in digasant at Platt, Elkins, Hiscock and Paelps, who some days ago organized a combine against him, and have prevented than getting the enthusiastic support of New York, as well as the votes of New England. What Depew will do still unafus a commune against him, and nother votes of view England. What Depew will do still unafus a commune, the admits he has o hope of nomination himself, but will of indicate what his course will be. His ntimate triends believe he will join Warder Atlifer in throwing as many votes as assible to Sherman.

BALTIMORE, June 21.—Baltimore, 11; in a new coffin.

A conference of Blaine men was held built. Hiscock, Platt, Powell Clayton, william Watter Phelps and S. B. kins were present. It was agreed that Blaine is willing to take the nomination if it can be secured in the right way, but that it is the duty of his friends to make an effort to support Harrison of Indiana, beginning as soon as there shall be signs of a breaking up of the complimentary votes, probably after the first ballot tomorrow.

The other candidates re dwarfed by this strungle between the forces of Blaine and Sherman, though there is a growing belief that Gresham is a strong man. Allison is still well thought of as a compromise candidate. McKiney and Foraker, particularly the latter, who has become very popular, are taked of as dark horses. NOTES OF THE DAY.

Senator Jones Thinks Blaine the Man-Stirring Scenes Curcago, June 21.—|By the Associated Senator Jones of Nevada, who has nent that Blaine was out of the fight gh his own inclination, said tonight mat the aspect was certainly decidedly in Biaine's favor. "It seems to me that there is nothing that can now prevent his nomination. I base my opinion on human nature. After a few ballots, when Sherman finds he cannot win, he would sooner throw his strength to Blaine than any of the other candidates, as there would be less numiliation than in being beaten by a less popular man."

"Will Nevada go to him?" was asked. "Yes," said the Senator, "at the proper ries, said the Scientor, "at the proper time. We certainly won't rush in for him right off, but our people are for him, and we will obey the will of our constituents," "Do you think Blaine will be nominated

"Perhaps. After several ballots the break will probably commence."

CHEER FOR BLAINE.

When the State of Ohio was called the first really great demonstration of the convention was made. The delegates all over the hall climbed upon chairs, waved American flags, and should at the top of their voices. The galleries joined in the applause. The applause became rapturous. Some ladies in the galleries who brought white silk umbrellas trimmed with small American flags opened them, twirled their hanners around and around, while the cheers and shouts increased in volume. The scene continued for some time, and was not even equaled by the one which soon followed, when Gen. Hastings of Pennsylvania, in presenting the name of Sherman, incidentally referred to Blaine. When this demonstration finally came to an end, the Chie delegation gave way to Pennsylvania, and Adjt. Gen. Hastings was presented to the convention to present the name of Gen. A PECULIAR INCIDENT.

As Gov. The first real scene in the convention so far was precipitated by the mention of the name *f Blaine by Gallinger at the close of his speech. Then many delegates sprang to their feet and shouted for nearly a minute. Flags waved and the demonstration became finally really limposing. There was no other second to Harrison's nomination, and the secretary proceeded calling the roll of States.

Some days ago a rather pretty little woman, who gave her name as Mrs. Hill, called on Doc, and in the sweetest of sweet woice informed him that she was desirous of attending to very important business in Pasadena, and that it was necessary for her to drive out in a buggy. A gentle horse was soon attached to a regular "duck" of a buggy, as Mrs. Hill called it, and as Doc il litted her dainty little form into the buggy she lisped that she would pay him on her return. She was gone all day, and late in the afternoon she drove into the stable. She was carefully littled out by Doc, and as she lit on her No. I feet she handed him a bundle and asked him to keep it until the morrow, when she would call for it and settle for the buggy. Since that evening many morrows have come, but Mrs. Hill has falled to show up, and yesterday Doc made up his mind to open the valuable bundle. He did so, and much to his disgust he found that it contained a pair of old stockings, an old and dilaplidated undergarment and two time-worn jackets. He started out to m ske a thorough investigation, and leafned that he had been taken in by one of the sharpest confidence women in the State.

IN A TRAP

How a Prominent Lawyer Was Done
Up by a Dressmaker.
Last night a young man well-known in legal circles as a very promising aspirant after legal fame, having remained rather longer in the company of sundry convivial spirits than was wise, considering that he had to catch the last car on the Secondstreet cable line, hastily bid his friends good night, and throwing dignity to the winds raced at good speed along Spring street trying his best to beat the record and prevent the dear little woman away over the hill fretting her heart out at his long prevent the dear little woman away over the hill fretting her heart out at his long absence.

Parting for breath, he was just in time, and with a feeling of exhaustion he threw himself in the only vacant seat in the car between an elderly, spinster-looking lady and a dainty, rosy-cheeked little piece of loveliness, whose appearance almost compensated him for his unpleasant race against time. While sitting quietly trying o cool off and regain his breath he imagined he felt the young lady on his left press against him with her arm. He thought he must be mistaken, but no, there it was again; a most pronounced but gentle and half-loving pressure assured him he was in no wise mistaken, and so giving his head a toss and pulling his immaculate linen another inch down his wrista. In the blissful certainty that the dear little thing was gone on his shape, the legal Adonis returned the pressure, and as the cable car speeded fits way over the hill the two kept up series of suggestive nudges and stroking-down that presumably were awfully nice because not altogether proper. Upon reaching — avenue the little fairy got out, and, her impromptu acquaintance, living only a block away, also jumped out. As the car started off, leaving the young couple in darkness save for the moon and stars shining down upon them, the zirl opened the conversation by saying: "Now, there! Did anyone ever see such a thing? I never intended you to jump off the same time as me."

intended you to jump our the same time."

"No," answered young parchment; "but now that I have found you, I trust you will at least allow me to sea you to your home."

"Weil, I don't know," rejoined little sweetness, "Perhaps you thought me too bold in the car, but it was only fun, and I didn't intend you to follow me, really."

"We can have a little chat, anyway, as we go along, and I assure you I am pleased, and consider myself lineky to have met you."

"Yes, you all say that, but perhaps you may think you can take all kinds of liberties because I was—well, a little foolish coming up, and you may think me fly, but I'm not."

not."
"Certainly not. I only think you're a very joily little girl, and I wouldn't dream of doing anything you wouldn't wish."
"Well, I don't think you would for I know Mrs. — very well, having made ment.

"Yes. Why not?"

"Oh, nothing," adding with the calmness of despair, "good-right, I'm so glad, but I must go now, I've got an engagement—that is, I have an appointment—ta-ta," and the yeung hero took to his heels for the second time during the night on account of his better haif.

Five minutes iater a very demure young gentleman was explaining with an excess of verblage how he had been detained in the city talking matters ever with his assoof verbiage how he had been detailed in the city talking matters ever with his asso-ciate counsel in that difficult case just coming up in Department 1. He lied with a very straight face, but all the time he was asking himself if that wretched little dress-maker intended to give him away.

What Does Grover Intend?
Ancient and modern European despots have always used some flower as a symbol of their reign. It has remained for a so-called Democratic President in this free Republic to ape the lily-loving Bourbons of France and the coru-flower worshiping Hohenzollerns of Germany by appropriating that loveliest of flowers, the rose, as his emblem. Does Grover intend setting himself up as a modern Bourbon monarch? modern Bourbon monarch?

From consumers, "to waste away," usually applied to the advanced stage of lung disease. The following are prominent symptoms in the first stage, and whenever any of them exist a thorough examination should be made, with a view to arresting the disease as shown to exist: There is usually a sense of weariness upon a little exercise, a disposition to remain passive and idio, despondence, often from no apparent cause, a peculiar sensitive-ness to the effect of cold, and a breathlessness upon moving quickly, or descending a hill or stairs, a slight, hacking cough, with or without expectoration, excitability upon slight occasions, flying pains through the chest or back, or under the shoulder blades. The symptoms are more noticeable toward or during the night, blight fever in the afternoon, cold feet or hands, or in many cases, blue randilly of the lips and roots of the most time of the lips and roots of the most time of the lips and roots of the most time of the lips and roots of the lips and lips
